For Immediate Release:

Title: Columbia REA Adds New Positions to its Staff

Columbia REA (Dayton, Washington) welcomes two employees to fill new positions.

Ryan Lee joins us as a GIS drafting technician. Ryan is located at our Walla Walla office. Ryan comes to Columbia REA from Point Inside, Inc. located in Bellevue, Washington where he served as a data entry technician.

Ryan will be responsible for maintaining the mapping structure of our electrical distribution system. In addition Ryan will be taking on staking and drafting functions.

Ryan was born and raised in Minnesota. He earned a degree in GIS and Geography from the University of Minnesota-Duluth. Ryan and his family reside in College Place, Washington.

Brendan Johnson comes aboard and will serve as a data administrator. Brendan comes to Columbia REA from Vecenergy, the energy division of the Vecellio Group in South Florida. Also located at the Walla Walla office, Brendan will be responsible for ensuring the databases that Columbia REA utilizes are running well and that the data stored in them is secure and protected.

Brendan grew up in Albany, Oregon and earned a degree in Bioengineering from the University Honors College at Oregon State University. Brendan and his family reside in Walla Walla.
